Section 1 - INTRODUCTION

The purpose of the Code is to ensure that Home Buyers are treated fairly, know what service levels to expect, receive reliable information upon which to make their decisions and know how to access speedy, low-cost dispute resolution arrangements if they are dissatisfied.

The Code applies to all Home Buyers and Homes stated in the Scope of the document and Advantage AHCI is responsible for managing the Code.

Home Buyers, who think they have a dispute because a Home Builder has failed to meet the Code requirements, may refer their dispute to an independent Dispute Resolution Scheme.

The Consumer Code Management Board will arrange for surveys to check how well the Code is working and measure consumer satisfaction. In carrying out the surveys, the relevant sections of the Data Protection Act will be complied with.

To establish how well the Code is being applied, or whether it needs to be amended or updated, there will be audits conducted on an annual basis along with reviews, assessments of customer satisfaction feedback, complaints process and guidance for members. There may also be mystery shopping surveys.

Nothing in the Code affects Home Buyers' existing legal rights.

Section 2 - PREFACE

Developers applying for or taking out a warranty on a development with AHCI shall comply with this Code. This Code may be amended at any time and any amendments will apply to all developments registered with the Advantage Warranty after such time as notice of such the amendment(s) is adopted.

This Code is effective from 01 May 2016.

Compliance by the Developer with this Code is a condition precedent to the Underwriter providing insurance for any proposed Development and is designed to protect consumer interests at all times.

Defined terms and interpretations used in this Code are set out in this document under the heading 'Definitions and Interpretations'

Any dispute or claim arising out of or in connection with this Code shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales.

Please appraise this Code document carefully as all Developers will have legal responsibilities and obligations under this Code to all Consumers but any queries should be directed to the Scheme Administrator – AHCI Limited.

Section 3 - SUMMARY OF COVER

BACKGROUND

The AHCI cover provided (the policy) is designed to meet the insurance cover required to be provided in respect of new home warranty schemes in accordance with the Council of Mortgage Lenders Handbook for England and Wales.

AHCI is committed to maintaining the highest standards in terms of ensuring that houses are built to the highest possible standards and also in the standard of service it provides to all our clients and business partners and consumers and their appointed third parties.

The Developer must comply with Building Regulations and the requirements of the authorised Building Control Body involved in inspecting their work and protect the interests of the consumer at all times. These regulations are statutory requirements and are focused mainly around health and safety, access for the disabled and conservation of fuel and power issues. For Residential Property(s) insured under AHCI the Building Control function can be undertaken by either Local Authority Building Control or an Approved Inspector.

A reservation agreement is frequently used in the sale of new homes when a buyer reserves the right to buy the property for a period of time (the reservation period) and pays a fee. The developer states that they will not sell the property to another during the reservation period. If the buyer decides to buy the property, any fee is deducted from the deposit paid on exchange of contracts. If the buyer decides not to proceed with the purchase, they can cancel the reservation agreement at any time during the reservation period and the developer will reimburse the reservation fee after deduction of expenses (e.g. legal and administrative expenses).

A reservation agreement must state:

The Developer and Buyer must be in possession of a signed copy of the Reservation Agreement and the Developer must not attempt to sell the plot to a third party until such time as the Reservation Agreement has expired.

The Reservation Agreement may be cancelled by the Buyer or extended by mutual agreement between both parties. The Reservation Agreement automatically expires if no Contract of Sale takes place within the specified time frame.

The Reservation Fee must be refunded in full if the Buyer cancels within 7 calendar days or be reimbursed in full within 14 days if it expires less any agreed amounts payable to the Developer.

The Reservation Fee must be held in a designated separate client account by the Developer unless a credit card payment has been made.

N.B

The Warranty covers complaints within a ten year period from practical completion.
